

Be a Host Family to a child in need

“Being a host family is providing a safe place to call home. Opening up your doors, mind and heart, while possibly building a long-lasting healthy relationship. You truly end up welcoming another member to your family.” said an epic host.

Epic Empowerment has always thought of different ways rescue youth facing hardships, and one of our proven tools has been our epic host families. By being a host family, you are not only impacting a young person's world first-hand, your world is also being impacted. Our intentions with the Safe Kids Program is to avoid disrupting a young leader academic school year, so we request our host families to house a student for the duration of the school year.

The Safe Kids Program works with community members who are willing to open their homes to these unattended youth as a host family, or providing 48 hours respite care. Any adult or family is eligible to apply to serve as a host family as long as they have an available space in their home. Epic Empowerment does a comprehensive background check on any individual or family making application; inspects the home for safety for the youth, and conducts interviews and in-home training.

If you want to make a difference in a young person's life, consider becoming a Host Family. To take the first step, please visit our website epicempowerment.org and download our host family handbook.
